RESTRICTION/ELECTION

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 40-54 and 58-71 drawn to a condenser or a condenser-reservoir for a closed loop biomass extraction circuit, classified in class 202, subclass 168.
- II. Claims 55-57 and 72- 74, drawn to a method of operating a condenser for a closed loop biomass extraction circuit and a method of operating an assembly, classified in class 203, subclass 1.
- III. Claim 75, drawn to a solvent obtained by the method of operating a condenser for a closed loop biomass extraction circuit, classified in class 252, subclass 69.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions II and I are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process such as: a process wherein the driving force for circulation of the solvent through the biomass and around the system is the difference in pressure between the condenser, storage and evaporator generated by a compressor as recognized by applicants and as described at page 3, second full paragraph of the specification.

Inventions II and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as: liquefied carbon dioxide, a family of chlorine –free solvents based on organic hydroflurocarbon and other solvents as described, e.g., at paragraphs [0004] through [0007] of the specification.

Inventions I and III are related as apparatus and product made. The inventions in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the apparatus as claimed is not an obvious apparatus for making the product and the apparatus can be used for making a different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus (MPEP § 806.05(g)). In this case, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus such as: still absorber and vacuum evaporator..

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification; and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
